Little Dick Kerr Keeps Local Sluggers Quiet and Orderly

Young Hofmann's Home Run Ties Score in Fourth Inning, but Thereafter Quinn Is Bumped by Rejuvenated Chicago Team; Sheehan Batted Hard

By Charles A. Taylor

Little Dickie Kerr, one of the few white sheep left on the White Sox, yesterday put a check on the wild batting orgies in which the Yankees have been reveling of late. Little Dickie just slow-balled our mightiest sluggers to death and the White Sox romped away with the opening game of a five-game series at the Polo Grounds by a score of 7 to 2.

The only home run of the afternoon fell to the lot of Fred Hoffman, who was introduced into the Yankee lineup following the injury to Wallie Schang in the Detroit series. Fred joined the Order of Home Runners in the fifth inning, the ball finding a resting place in the lower tier of the right field stand. This crash tied the score at 1-all.

score at 1-all.

Babe Ruth was quiet and orderly, securing only a double, single and base on balls in his four trips to the plate. Ruth also scored one of the two runs made by the Yanks, but what, pray, is such a showing as this for the Monarch of Maulers?

Tie on Hofman's Homer

Tie on Hofman's Homer

The White Sox tallied the first run of the game in the fourth inning, which Eddie Collins opened with a single to center. Hooper hit into a double play, but "Bib" Falk sent a three-bagger to right center and crossed the plate on Strunk's single to left. Hofman's homer tied the count in the fifth, but that was the last real stand of the Yankees.

The visitors picked up another run in the sixth on a triple by Mulligan and a single by Hooper, and in the eighth thee rejuvenated Sox amassed a total of four hits for three runs, which settled the fate of Quinn as the Yankee pitcher, and settled the outcome of the game as well.

Tom Sheehan, who relieved Quinn, was found for two more runs in the ninth. This was more than enough, for the most the Hugmen could produce in their final effort was one run, the Babe doubling off the right field wall and scoring on Meusel's single to left.

Faber May Pitch To-day

Faber May Pitch To-day

The controversy will be resumed this afternoon, with Urban Faber and Carl Mays as the probable boxmen. Those who reach the grounds early enough will have an opportunity to see the Blair pitching machine in action. *Judging from the way the pitchers are being treated now such a machine might improve matters.

Sheely lost his bearings in the second when, with Meusel on first, he threw to second after gathering in Baker's grounder. Had Sheely touched first before throwing there would have been a fine chance for a double play.

Jack Quinn fanned three batters in a row in the second and third innings. Sheely and Schalk expired by the strike-out route in the second and Kerr did likewise as first batter in the

Brooklyn Players Give Grimes Perfect Support -Kilduff Stars at Bat

Special Dispatch to The Tribune PITTSBURGH, June 15 .- Meeting the league leaders to-day in the first game of a series of four put new life into the Dodgers. They woke up and trounced the Pirates by 7 to 3 and played errorless ball. The Pirates played errorless ball. The Pirates flashed an error by Maranville that cost two runs and another by Carey on a ground ball that helped two other runners around the paths.

Burleigh Grimes made his first start since he had his thumb smashed by a single in the last game in Chicago. The thumb was still swollen and painful, but Burleigh volunteered for duty. He allowed the Pirates ten hits.

Wilbur Cooper, the star southpaw, endured his second defeat of the season in to-day's game. The Dodgers got to him for singles by Olson and Neis in the first inning, but did not score because Johnston and Wheat struck out. They reached him for two hits and a run in the second, two hits and four runs in the fifth and four hits and four runs in the sixth.

four hits and four runs in the sixth.

Carey Slams Out Triple
Carey tripled past Schmandt to open the third inning and scored on a passed ball. Tierney singled in the ninth with one out. He took second when Kilduff threw out Grimm and was allowed to stroll to third. He scored on a single by Schmidt. Cutshaw batted for Ponder and grounded to Kilduff.

Kilduff led the Dodger batters with a triple, a double and a single. His triple came in the second inning with one out. He held third when Barnhart threw out Miller, but scored on the first of Grimes's two singles to center. Grimes helped win his own game by driving in three runs with his two hits. The score:
